

Hey Class of 2013. Kick off your college search with SDSU Saturday, January 28, 2012.

There's so much about college to explore—majors, campus life, career possibilities and more. As a high school junior, now is the perfect time to start looking at colleges and narrowing down your options.

Junior Day at South Dakota State University is a visit program just for high school juniors and their families to learn about all aspects of college life. It's also a great opportunity to see if SDSU might be the right fit for you.
